HORACE DODD, P. M.

Almost a Tragedy.

A disturbance occurred at a late hour on Saturday night at a saloon on Glenwood avenue, which might very easily have been attended with fatal consequences. A dispute over a trivial matter arose between a young man named Orson Bonnell and the keeper of the saloon. It was brought to a close by Talmadge, the keeper of the saloon, who struck Bonnell a murderous blow upon the head with a policeman's club. The injured man ran out of the room into the street, where, partially stunned, he fell. Regaining his feet, he ran wildly across the street, stumbling on the flagging down the embankment next to the store of Hargraves and Hayes. Mr. Unangst, who resides in the immediate vicinity, and several others, attracted by cries of distress, went to his relief and the unfortunate young man was taken to his home. He sustained no material injury beyond the severe cut made by the blow he received in the saloon.

The American Institute Fair, now open in New York, on Third avenue, 63d and 64th streets, will remain open until Nov. 15th. The Fair this year surpasses anything heretofore held in this country, for novelty and instruction, having at least fifty different factories in operation, under one roof, manufacturing the finished articles from the raw material. Admission Tickets at reduced rates, may be obtained at the Depot.

John C. Heenan died of consumption in Colorado on Saturday last. He had achieved considerable notoriety as a prize-fighter, although, singularly, he was beaten in all of his great encounters. He was married to an actress from whom he was divorced, and subsequently to a lady of great personal attraction and excellent character. His early death, at the age of 39, was due in great measure to early excesses and dissipation.

Robert Sixbury recently died in Jefferson county, N. Y, aged 110 years. His reputation was that of a mighty hunter on the famous John Brown's tract, where he had slain over 2200 deer.

The Stokes Trial was concluded last night, the jury returning a verdict of manslaughter in the third degree. The prisoner was sentenced to four years imprisonment at hard labor.

State Items.

Jacob Mechella, the Finnlander, who murdered Marshal Stephenson in Jersey City, was sentenced by Judge Bedle in the Hudson County Court yesterday. The sentence was that he should be hung on the 5th of December, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and three in the afternoon.

Passaic feels the panic more severely than Paterson. The wire mill has suspended, the Watson bleachery is closed, the steam engine works have reduced their force, and the Waterhouse Brothers expect to shut down for a couple of weeks.

General Sherman has purchased five acres of land on the Orange mountain, where he expects to erect a fine residence adjoining the one of General McClellan.

Walpack, Sussex county, had a bear hunt last week. A hive was thrown down and the honey eaten by Bruin, who was tracked and shot. He weighed 400 pounds.

A BOOK OF STARTLING INTEREST.

WHAT CAN SHE DO?

BY THE AUTHOR OF

"Barriers Burned Away."

DODD & MEAD, PUBLISHERS. ONE VOL. 12mo. PRICE $1 75.

"What Can She Do?" is a Story of modern society; it depicts in the daughters of a wealthy family, reduced from great wealth to sudden poverty, the evils of a fashionable education, which only mocks in the hour of emergency and leaves its victims peculiarly exposed to temptation: it further shows how the heroine struggles bravely through difficulties arising mainly from her defective education, and achieves success in a large field of labor in which but few women are yet employed.

Thus making good the motto of the book

"Hail honest toil thy hard brown hand,
May save the fairest in the land."
